

Papers CTS11 & 18 document the original CTS. Papers CTS39 & 48 document the CTS2. CTS39 is detailed but not up to date. CTS48 is the most up to date. None of them cover the many papers using the original CTS, but published after the CTS2 became available in 1996).

Part 1 Bibliography of the Revised Conflict Tactics Scales (CTS2)	Page 2
Part 2. Bibliography of the Parent-Child Conflict Tactics Scales (CTSPC)	Page 28

This bibliography is based on the assumption that publications that report results from using the CTS2 are almost certain to cite the core paper on the Revised Conflict Tactics Scales or CTS2 (Straus et al., 1996), and that publications that report results from using the Parent-Child Conflict Tactics Scales or CTSPC are almost certain to cite the core paper on that instrument (Straus et al., 1998). This assumption permitted using the Social Science Citation Index (SSCI) to identify articles that cited these two papers and therefore to create a bibliography of articles that report results from using these two instruments. I plan to update this file every year.

Although SSCI covers almost all journals, some articles reporting results based on uses of the CTS2 or CTSPC may be missed because they were published in books and SSCI does not try to cover books. Conversely, a few articles cite one of the core articles for a purpose other than to document using these instruments.

This bibliography was compiled 2 February 2006 and includes 352 references to articles reporting results based on the CTS2 and 65 articles reporting results based on the CTSPC. Some of these articles reported results from using both instruments. Those articles are listed in both bibliographies.

The core papers, which give the full text of both instruments, are:
